No.1 Fixer: Child Education and Future Risk: Distraction due to zero concentration could be potentially dangerous to child's education and future leadership

No.1 Source: Zero Concentration issues could be fatal for the child's study and cognitive development its only due to over exposure to Mobile, TV Laptop, Tab etc., which interrupt their day to day learning process as their brain is well trained with latest technological data, trends, people, culture, products, and the best of realistic audio visuals around the world they can see it now by just accessing from their mobile or TV etc., so then when they went to school or in home study and when they have been told to study the books and writing , they can feel bored due to non-interesting audio visual thus the textbook, notebook could be non-appealing to them except fun and play activities, as a parent, can get unexpected complains from teachers on day to day basis since the child might get distracted easily and getting involved in bullying, poking, irritability, fight with others, non-discipline activities, overrule the order from teachers etc. all the things might increase the uncertainty of frequent school change, low merit, IQ, ADHD and other potential mental health issues that might affect their future upbringings and leaderships

No.1 Fixer: As a teacher and parents we both need to be proactive about that the children must write in their note book on daily basis and as a parent we don't need to be afraid about this since we know already what's right and what's wrong, so we must be gentle towards children and help them to make the overall learning process easier that's why you need to choose the school carefully, it must have 21 century modern infrastructure and latest educational system to make the delivery of child education must be entertaining and joyful and remove any boring and complexity from the educational system while must focus on how they can be upgraded with latest information, knowledge and trends of this world through their textbook syllabus oriented learning process.

So, use the latest gadgets, Interactive LED white board, audio visual learning, latest labs, Ai, Robotics, Modern Library, Canteen, Modern infrastructure, indoor & outdoor play, Swimming Pool, Extra Curricular Activities, Frequent Trips, E-

Learning System etc. that the child never feel bored and must engaged in the time spent in the school.

Not only they can get good marks in their academics as well as they will be well prepared for any challenges due to constant threat from technological changes and unemployment and they can always be prepared with right mindset to overcome any obstacle in future.

No.1 Breaking Point: We often ignored the fundamental problem from where its started and we tend to panic and put more pressure on Childs and give them lots of stress even if the teachers are incompetent they can be doing easily mistakes to identify the real problem and put the blame on the student, that's why you need to focus on the No.1 Source i.e. Concentration issues and to cope with we must not avoid the problem since we can't escape this world nor we can ignore TV, Mobile, Tab etc. rather we need to integrate the same device for their learning process so that when we know where their Focus and concentration shifted to ? Yes, it's on Audio Visual gadgets then exactly we can use those modern infrastructure for the easy teaching and learning to them.

You must aware of Risk from the constant digital exposure that their eyes and brain is going get mostly affected, that's why a school is place where they can have fun-based learning which also involved with constant monitoring, socialism, task engagement, play, food and drinks, interaction with friends and teachers, theory and practical sessions, exam, healthy competition etc. which not only eliminate those residual risk but also make the whole education and learning process a fun-based learning and this can create the happy memory which is essential for day-to-day concentration and focus building. So, all our aim as a parent to make sure their life must be balanced with digital exposure with realistic worldly activities and physical task and social involvement.

You need to make sure they should get adequate daily sleep otherwise child might get anxiety, stress and irritability issues. If on a suddenly you saw that your child is affecting with these issues then no need to panic rather focus on their Sleep and make their Sleep also interesting and quite and follow the effective daily routine for them.
